ELIZABETH JORDAN JOINS SPECTRUM ASSEMBLY, INC. AS QUALITY MANAGER

SAN DIEGO, CA -- Spectrum Assembly Inc., (www.saicorp.com), today announced that Elizabeth Jordan has joined the Company as quality manager. She was earlier associated with Cohu Electronics, Inc. as quality manager. She has also been associated with Watkins Manufacturing, Sony Electronics and General Dynamics/Convair Division in a variety of quality and production management capacities. She is a Certified Quality Auditor (CQA) through the American Society for Quality (ASQ).

“Elizabeth has nearly three decades of experience in a wide variety of production environments ranging from mission critical products to consumer electronics. As a regional electronics manufacturing services provider we serve a wide range of industries. Elizabeth’s breadth of experience ensures that all of our customers’ varying quality management needs will be supported. This is particularly important in the medical and defense/aerospace industries where traceability and device history recording requirements are stringent,” said Mike Baldwin, Spectrum Assembly, Inc.’s vice president.

Founded in 1993, Spectrum Assembly is headquartered in a 40,000 sq. ft. facility in Carlsbad, CA. As a full service turnkey contract manufacturer, SAI provides manufacturing and test of printed circuit board assemblies, complex box build and cable/harness assemblies. It serves customers in a variety of industries, including medical, defense, agricultural, industrial, audio/visual and lighting. SAI is registered to ISO 9001, AS9100 and ISO 13485.
